

香港城市大學
City University of Hong Kong

Peace Avenue Vet Clinic is one of the largest veterinary referral hospitals in Hong Kong. We are a dedicated team of specialists including, internal medicine, surgery, neurology, cardiology, critical care, anaesthesia and dermatology. Our case-load is extremely interesting and challenging, and our clientele are highly motivated to allow advanced veterinary care. Our facilities include a full on-site laboratory, a full complement of endoscopic equipment, a new 16 slice CT scanner, direct digital radiography, arthroscopy, fluoroscopy, laparoscopy, high quality digital ultrasound, new EMG testing equipment and a 1.5Tesla MRI. Our purpose built surgical and consulting suites are staffed 24 / 7 / 365. We have a complete Ophthalmology diagnostic and treatment facilities, including: Carl Zeiss operating microscope, ERG, Infiniti V3.0 phacoemulsification, and infrared Laser.

We are growing rapidly and have significant plans for continued expansion. The veterinary world in Asia is advancing rapidly and we aim to be at the forefront of this development. With its unique links to City University's School of Veterinary Medicine in Hong Kong and its partner at Cornell University, we will further develop our veterinary referral service, research opportunities, and the training of veterinarians and specialists within the Asia Pacific region.

We are seeking a Specialist in Veterinary Ophthalmology to join our team, with the goal being to provide excellent service and gold standard care.

The successful candidate must have:

- Completed their Diplomate ECVO or Diplomate ACVO or completed their ophthalmology residency with additional experience in a specialist or emergency setting, and a view to completion of specialist qualifications soon
- Ambition, drive, a strong work ethic with an ability to work independently, and as part of a team. Robust diagnostic skills, veterinary care, compassion, and communication skills are essential.

Responsibilities:

- Conduct consultations with clients offering evidence-based advice and recommendations
- Perform ophthalmic surgery and provide follow-up and aftercare
- Provide guidance and in-house CPD to technicians, nurses and interns
- Ensure all aspects of cases under your care are managed to the highest standards
- Provide thorough feedback to both clients and referring veterinarians whilst maintaining accurate clinical records
- Work with the Chief Veterinary Medical Officer in providing educational and training opportunities for interns and students.

Benefits / Hours:

PAVC is a rewarding working environment with a reputation for teamwork, client satisfaction and personnel development. We offer generous packages with flexibility regarding hours and days off to get the right candidate on board. Typically our specialists work 4 or 5 days per week in full time roles. All this, as well as the excitement of living in one of the most vibrant and safe cities in the world, with one of the lowest tax rates on the planet, and opportunities to explore the most dynamic and evolving regions of the world.

If you are a team player, have a sense of humour and interested in developing our Ophthalmology service in Hong Kong, please consider applying.

Applications

Please direct your CV (listing 3 professional referees) and covering letter to the Chief Veterinary Medical Officer, Jonathan Speelman, DACVS-SA:

jspeelman@peaceavevet.com.hk before April 1, 2017.

Potential candidates will be encouraged to visit HK to discuss the position, to see the facility and experience the lifestyle that Hong Kong has to offer, at our expense.