

Ophthalmology maternity cover

Dick White Referrals is a fast expanding, state-of-the-art, multi-disciplinary small animal referral clinic in the beautiful county of Cambridgeshire with easy access to Cambridge and London.

Our team is dedicated to providing the highest standard of patient care. We are seeking a colleague to support our Ophthalmology team full- or part-time as a locum in between February and July 2018 while one of our team members is on maternity leave. A full-time appointment within the specialist division of the PaH group of expanding referral hospitals throughout the UK would be an exciting option following the locum position.

The successful candidate should hold a postgraduate diploma in Veterinary Ophthalmology or should be eligible to sit the examination for the European or American postgraduate diploma in Veterinary Ophthalmology.

The ophthalmology team currently comprises three ECVO diplomates, three ECVO residents and two dedicated nurses.

Our team is working with more than 25 European and RCVS specialists in the fields of cardiology, internal medicine, oncology, soft tissue surgery, neurology, anaesthesiology, dermatology, orthopaedic surgery, pathology and clinical pathology. Available facilities include the usual diagnostic and surgical equipment including fundus photography, operating microscope with video system, phacoemulsification unit, cryotherapy, corneal cross-linking unit, on-site MRI and CT scanner. We also have online access to a university's medical library.

We offer an excellent salary and time-off in compensation for out of hour work for a sustainable work-life balance. Accommodation may be provided if necessary. If you would like to discuss the position, have any questions or wish to apply please call or email Claudia Busse at 0044 1638 572012 or cb@dwr.co.uk.
